EVENTS OF INTEREST IN VARIOUS PARTS OF THE STATE.

Another Wildcat—A Coming Wedding—Harvard Benefits—The Boys and the Wild Man Hunt—No Traces of the Wild Man—A Fatal Sleeping Draught—The Wasps Were There, Etc.

Gulfport, Aug. 26.—A large wildcat was seen on the stage road near Spinning Mill brook last night by a party out walking. The animal's screams have been heard for several nights.

WEDDING OF A WALLINGFORD YOUNG LADY TO A SUFFIELD PASTOR.

Wallingford, Aug. 26.—On Tuesday, September 10, the marriage of Rev. Francis Miner Moody and Miss Grace Butler Mix, daughter of Selectman John B. Mix, will take place at the bride's home, 108 North Main street. Rev. Mr. Moody is now pastor of the Methodist church in West Suffield and Miss Mix is the well known contralto singer at the First Baptist church in New Britain. The invitations will be sent out to-morrow.

HARVARD LODGE BENEFITS.

George Mischler, grand secretary of the Grand lodge, D. O. H., claims that the German Harvargi order is the only society that does not shut off a member from sick benefits after a certain length of time has elapsed.

In his report to the recent state convention at New Haven he showed that the order well carried out its motto of "Friendship, Love and Humanity." Julius F. Knipfer of Liberty street extension, Meriden, who has been sick for a long time, has been paid up to last month $1,355.

The Harvargi order pays weekly sick benefits of $5 during a member's illness, be the time long or short. The local lodge pays the benefit for six months, and then the sick brother's keeping passes into the hands of the Grand lodge, which receives funds from all the subordinate lodges for that purpose.

There are 2,008 members of the society in Connecticut, and the fund in hand amounts to $30,677.19.

WINDSTORM BOYS.

Winsted, Aug. 26.—Robbie Adams, with two other boys, went hunting for the wild man on their own hook yesterday, and Robert while carelessly handling a revolver very narrowly escaped death. It was accidentally discharged, the ball striking him in the forehead right over the eye. It luckily glanced off and went through the top of his cap. The other boys picked the powder out of his face and he is none the worse for wear this morning.

BOUND OVER.

Waterbury, Aug. 26.—C. A. Allen was arraigned before Judge Carroll this morning, charged with murderous assault upon his mother-in-law, Mrs. McLaughlin, aged seventy-three. The assault was committed about two weeks ago. He was bound over to the superior court under $2,000 bonds, which he was unable to furnish and so went to jail.

A RACE.

A race is being arranged between Peter Boula's horse Defender, who won the oak at the driving park last Thursday, and Brandy, who is owned by Michael Brahm of Waterville. Brandy is the horse that gave Defender a hot contest at the same events last week. The race will be for $50 a side.

LIABILITIES $4,000.

The Rev. Frederick Thompson of Canaan has assigned of all his property to George S. Fuller, trustee, for the benefit of his creditors. The liabilities amount to over $4,000. The Canaan academy property will continue to be used as a school, but under whose management is still undetermined. Mr. Thompson has decided to accept the position of assistant master of the Berkeley school at Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

WASP NEST IN THE BREAD BOWL.

T. B. Watson of Essex returned home last week after a long absence. On entering the house he found that wasps had come through a hole in the pantry window and had made their nest in a large bread bowl. He took up the bowl to throw it, when he was instantly covered with the wasps. They stung him about the head and face in a terrible manner and it will be some time before he is able to attend to business.

AT WINCHESTER CHURCH.

On Wednesday, August 28, the church at Winchester will have a social gathering to commemorate the twenty-five years ministry of Rev. Arthur Goodenough in that place. The Winchester church is the oldest one in town and was organized in 1771 with fourteen members. The services on Wednesday will be at 11 o'clock and at 2 o'clock. Addresses are expected from Rev. W. M. Gay of Nepaug, Rev. H. A. Russell, formerly of Winsted and Colebrook, and several neighboring ministers. In these days of change, a continuous pastorate of twenty-five years is exceptional, and there will doubtless be a good attendance of those interested. A general invitation is extended.

DIED WHILE DRIVING.

Middletown, Aug. 26.—Henry Sedgwick, aged sixty-four, a farmer of Maromans, died, early Sunday morning, from heart failure, while driving in a carriage near his home. The horse went home with the carriage when he found himself without a master, and the body was found in the yard by friends.

CHLORAL HYDRATE FOR INSOMNIA.

Wilmington, Aug. 26.—Edward P. Cummings of Windham, forty-five years old, was found dead in the woods here yesterday by three boys. An empty bottle was found by his side. Saturday night he had a prescription filled containing 300 grains of chloral hydrate to use for insomnia.

FRIGHTENED THE BURGLARS.

Darien, Aug. 26.—The postoffice in this place was entered by burglars shortly after midnight. They made such a noise within that Mrs. Frederick Chatterton, living nearby, was awakened and went down and shook the door. The burglars made their escape through a rear window.

THE WILD MAN HUNT.

Winsted, Aug. 26.—An attempt made Sunday to catch the wild man proved unsuccessful, although the search was participated in by one hundred men. The searching parties went out in squads from here and there were joined in the hunt by a few Colebrook farmers.

"Injun Meadow" was thoroughly scoured, but no traces of the alleged wild man were to be had. On the Beardsley farm a small hut was located and a small fireplace built of stones, where somebody had recently kindled a blaze. A quart bottle containing a pint of milk was also found near the fireplace a few days ago by members of the Beardsley household. It was thought to be the remains of a feast of a berrying party.

A hog owned by Riley W. Smith of this place was discovered roaming about the fields bordering on the old highway leading to Colebrook.

So far not the slightest clue as to the whereabouts of the wild man has been obtained.

SOUTHTON.

Aug. 26.—Mrs. F. W. Barnes, who has been ill for several days, was reported very low this morning.

A fourteen-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Reinshaw died Saturday afternoon of cholera infantum. The funeral was held this afternoon at 2 o'clock, and the burial was at Oak Hill.

Helen, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fletcher, is seriously ill. The approaching marriage is announced of Thomas F. Moran of Plantsville to Miss Annie J. Dutton of Forestville. The wedding will occur Wednesday morning, September 25, the ceremony being performed in St. Matthew's church, Forestville.

Frank D. Frisbie, aged thirty-eight years, who had been ill for only a week, died at his home early this morning of dysentery. He failed rapidly last evening and Dr. Kelly, his physician, called in Dr. Osborne in consultation during the evening. It was then evident that the end was near. Mr. Frisbie retained his reason until within a few minutes of his death. Besides a wife he leaves two daughters, Miss Ada and Miss Nellie, and a predeceased mother, who is seventy-eight years of age. They have the sympathy of all. The funeral will be held at the house Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Burial in the Quinlance cemetery. It is expected Rev. E. S. Holloway of New York will officiate. The deceased was a man beloved by all, a kind husband and loving father, remarkable for his kindness to his family. He was a very prominent member of the Second Baptist church, being a trustee and for several terms was deacon and superintendent of the Sunday school, and a director of the Meriden union, Y. P. S. C. E. He was a member of Eureka lodge, I. O. O. F., and Unity council, O. U. A. M., but unfortunately, it is reported, he is just now unaffiliated in both. He was insured for $1,000 in the O. U. A. M. The handsome Haviland residence and adjoining property on Meriden avenue was purchased this afternoon by J. T. Yeckley and wife.

WALLINGFORD.

Among the survivors of the old Fifteenth Connecticut Volunteers who were assembled in reunion at Naugatuck yesterday were Selectman J. B. Mix, Representative Joel R. Hough, D. W. Ives and Samuel Bartholomew from this town. The old veterans report a very pleasant time, and each of the 161 members present received a handsome souvenir of Naugatuck and its business and prominent citizens.

Invitations will be sent out to-day for the marriage of Miss Grace B. Mix, daughter of Selectman John B. Mix, and Rev. Francis M. Moody of West Suffield, Conn. The ceremony will take place at the home of the bride on North Main street on Tuesday, September 10, at 12 o'clock noon.

The races of the Connecticut Central circuit, which opens this afternoon on the Center street track, promises to be quite interesting. Several of the trotters came in yesterday, and are a fine looking lot of horses.

The race between Aden Hull's and W. S. Fogarty's flyers has been postponed, as the latter's trotter is dead. George Gardner will cover first base for the Meridens next Saturday. George White of this town, who has been playing with that team, has not his release. The schools will reopen a week from this morning.

Look out for Aunt Sally's band on the street to-morrow. The advertiser will hold their cottage service this evening at the house of Mrs. George Hull on Fair street. H. M. Coomer started yesterday morning for his home in Savannah, Ga.

Yesterday three more inmates arrived at the Masonic home: Mr. and Mrs. William Pierce of Hartford and Mrs. Rachel Rose of Saybrook.

WORK AND GENIUS.

They Go Hand in Hand in the Experience of Most Noted Writers.

(From the Troy Times.)

Some one has said that genius is simply unremitting labor. Anthony Trollope, the novelist, is considered by certain readers a genius, but he regarded himself as a mere plodder. It was his practice to fix himself a daily "stint," writing just so much regardless of conditions, inspirations, etc. And it is not to be denied that he accomplished an enormous amount of work. But all intellects are not given to plodding. Work was often a torture to Robert Louis Stevenson, and the following from a letter to a friend shows how wretched he was in the moments when inspiration left him hopeless. "As for my damned literature, God knows what a business it is, grinding along with the scrap of hand, inspiration of a note of style. But it has to be ground, and the mill grinds exceedingly slowly, though not particularly small. The last two chapters have taken me considerably over a month, and they are still beneath my pen. This I cannot continue, time not sufficing, and the next will have to be worse. All the good I can express is just this: Some day, when style revivifies me, they will be excellent matter to rewrite. Of course my old cure of a change of work would probably answer, but I cannot take it now. The treadmill turns, and with a kind of desperate cheerfulness I mount the idle stair. I haven't the least anxiety about the book; unless I die I shall have time to make it good, but the Lord deliver me from the thought of the letters! However, the Lord, has other things on hand, and about six o'clock to-morrow I shall review the consideration practically and face (as best I may) the fact of my incompetence and disaffection to the past. Toi I do not spare; but fortune refuses me success, as whatever his name says. We can do no more, whatever his name says we can deserve it. But my misdeeds began long since by the acceptance of a bargain quite unsuitable to my methods."

Pyramid Lodge's Trolley Ride.

Pyramid lodge, A. O. U. W., had a jolly trolley party last evening with about forty-five persons aboard the car.

They left the lodge rooms on State street and went from there to the green, where they took the car. The trip extended to Light House Point, where the party had supper. Their approach was heralded by "the winding of the mellow horn" in the shape of a cornet.
